Ernie Jamison elected in St. Albert constituency

What most observers thought would be a tight race between incumbent Keith Everitt and Ernie Jamison, ended with the PC candidate being elected by a wide margin.

When final results were tabulated, Jamison topped the polls with 4,620 votes, Everitt had 3,585 votes and Liberal leader Robert Russell trailed with 1,661. Both he and Elsie McMillan, a newcomer to politics who ran for the NDP and collected 878 votes, lost their deposits.

Exact percentage of voters who exercised their franchise at the polls was not available at press time.

Keith Everitt picked up more than 700 votes over the 1967 provincial election, when he was elected with 2,824 votes. The Liberals and NDP both lost ground this time around. Russell had 2,322 votes in 1967 and Dr. Norman Dolman polled 1,343 for the NDP four years ago. Stan Walker was the Conservative candidate in 1967 with 1,455 votes.

Asked to comment on his sweeping victory, Ernie Jamison said that from his contacts with the many young people in the constituency, indications were that he had the majority of the young vote.

Poll by poll results are published elsewhere in this issue of the Gazette. Results of the Daylight Saving plebiscite were not complete at press time, but unofficial reports indicate a heavy vote in favor of DST.

Townend resigns hospital position

Gordon Townend has resigned his position as administrator, Sturgeon General Hospital. The resignation is effective September 1 and was accepted by the hospital board at a meeting held August 25.

In announcing the resignation, William Flynn, chairman of the board, said the board is pleased to have had the services of Mr. Townend for the past five years. He said the objectives of Mr. Townend were to assist the board in the construction of the hospital and see it into operation.

Mr. Flynn added the board plans to advertise the position and hopes to find a new administrator soon.

The hospital has been faced with a large number of resignations in recent months and is presently conducting interviews to ascertain why staff morale is low. Mr. Flynn told the Gazette Monday that the interviews are coming along nicely and that there seem to be no serious problems. He said the board will probably issue a statement when the interviews have been completed.

The hospital has been running at 40 per cent capacity in recent months.

Businesses broken into

Cochrane's Plumbing and the Ross bottle depot were broken into Monday night. First reports indicate nothing of value is missing, but damage to the businesses was extensive. RCMP are investigating.

The St. Albert police commission has been meeting regularly in recent weeks. Subjects presently under discussion are the police quarters, traffic problems, bicycles and other matters pertaining to police activity in the town. Members of the police commission are Jack Post, chairman; Bob Hudson, secretary; Roy Hart, vice-chairman and staff sergeant Fred Brown.

Migratory bird regulations

The Migratory Birds Regulations have been largely rewritten for the 1971 version, but daily bag and possession limits in Alberta remain the same as last year's.

Because habitat conditions, and waterfowl populations generally, remain at satisfactory levels eight ducks may be taken daily and 16 possessed. Bay and possession limits on geese are five and ten, including limits of two and four on white-fronted geese; on Wilson's snipe, 10 and 20, and on rails and coots 8 and 16.

A new hunting zone has been created in Alberta, to coincide with provincial regulations. Hunters must check provincial regulations for additional restrictions, as these have now been largely deleted from the federal regulations.

Hunters may use power boats this year in order to recover a bird which has been crippled. Other uses of power boats as defined in the regulations, are still prohibited. Crippled birds may be shot from a power boat only when the engine is turned off and forward motion has ceased.

Hunters must carry a valid migratory game bird hunting permit (available at post offices for $2), in addition to any required provincial hunting licence, when hunting or transporting migratory game birds.

Young riders compete

On Sunday two St. Albert Bicycle Club members participated in the Juniors and schoolboys 27-mile road race, held from Highway 16 to Devon and back.

This race was put on by the CCA in order to give the younger riders some experience in tactical riding. A number of senior riders from the Edmonton area acted as riding coaches. Local cyclists Lee Cameron and Chester Wasykiewicz competed in the event, with Lee coming in fifth and Chester placing seventh.

More events of this type are planned and the St. Albert Club hopes to run a weekend coaching clinic for young cyclists later this fall.

St. Albert school of dancing boasts outstanding results

St. Albert School of Dancing were the first school in Northern Alberta to introduce the internationally renowned Imperial Society of Teachers of Dancing Syllabus.

The method proved to be so successful that all the major dance schools in Edmonton and Calgary are now introducing the various syllabi to their students.

Since 1967, when Alma Hughes and Gladys Smith first entered students for examinations in tap and modern dance, the results have been outstanding: 50 Honours, 25 Highly Commended, 38 Commended, 8 Pass Plus and 3 Pass.

Not many teachers can boast No Failures in five years!

In October of this year Miss Ivy Baker will be visiting to conduct, for the first time in Western Canada, Imperial Classical ballet exams. Also while in Alberta she will be giving a workshop for the Alberta Professional Dance Teachers Association who will be celebrating their 10th anniversary.

This year, the dancing school is proud to introduce as student teachers Colleen Kelly and Kim Martin.

Colleen and Kim started with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Hughes as children and worked through the primary grades up to student teacher level and are now working toward their professional membership exam. One of the requirements for this exam is three years teaching experience with a reputable school.

Both these young ladies enjoy working with children and have a natural flair for choreography and the principals are confident that the girls will do a tremendous job and are looking forward to working with them this year.

The school would also like to introduce at this time, their new pianist Mrs. Shirley Plasteras, formerly of Red Deer.

The students will again be entering the Alberta Tap Dancing competition in November and also the Lethbridge Dance Festival.

Kim Martin and Colleen Kelly have been appointed as student teachers by the St. Albert School of Dancing. The girls are working toward their professional membership exam.

New application in for hotel

Council discussed the pros and cons of eliminating the town voters list at their last regular meeting August 16. Under new regulations they can now do so, and the voters would declare at the polls.

Secretary Dan O'Connell pointed out that there is no change in poll book recording, which will still be kept. Mayor Gibbon advised that the costs of getting out the voter's lists would be over $1,000. Councillor de Bruijn felt it was useful to enumerate every three years and have an accurate voters list, and also observed that if council changed the situation, and due to extra time for declaring or other reasons, trouble developed, it could be a nasty situation.

First reading of the by-law to eliminate the voters lists lost 5 - 2 with Gibbon and Hudson in favor.

An appeal by St. Albert Hotel (1971) Ltd., on the refusal of a second application for development, had been heard in Committee August 9, when Mr. S. Shapiro and his architect had an appointment.

The application had been refused by the development officer on the basis on servicing arrangements.

At the meeting August 16 council also had in front of them the planner's recommendations on the proposed development. The planner felt parking provided is considerably less than will be demanded by patrons of the hotel, and in a very short time there will be serious parking problems in the area, including a spill out on adjacent streets. He advised an additional 100 stalls either underground on the site or immediately adjacent and north of the hotel, or else to the south in a zoned commercial area.

Other recommendations of the planner included a six foot high solid fence on the western and southern extremities, landscaping provisions bonded at $10,000 and some form of medium strip from St. Albert Road to the point of access to the rear of the parking lot. This to control traffic at this potential hazardous intersection. Mr. Woodroffe reiterated his position that once the hotel goes into operation Garnett and Grange avenues will have to be closed at their north end.

Councillor de Bruijn saw no point in a fence between two highway commercial properties. He also gave his opinion that the rear 200 feet will eventually be zoned commercial as well.

"There's no way it will not develop in this manner," he said. (This area is presently singlefamily). "However the homeowner deserves some element of privacy - another type than the fence."

Councillor White thought the medium strip should not be the developer's responsibility - "I can't see it."

The architect suggested a 200-foot fence plus 10 foot strip of fairly heavy landscaping would adequately screen the property next door. Crux of the matter in his opinion was that a development permit was necessary for the final arrangements for financing. He

Letter to the Editor

Mother's views on abortions

The Editor:

I too thought Mr. Grant's letter of August 4 on Abortions was nothing more nor less than an acrimonious attack on a person with views contrary to his own. However, he might be surprised to learn that some of the "today's youth" he mentioned hold very strong views on this subject and are prepared to express them publicly in action.

I refer to mass resignations from hospitals in London, England, of young operating room nurses who simply could not stand the sight of the carnage left by the constant flow of abortion patients. They had been thoroughly sickened by the sight which, in many instances, was not wholly still, for as noted by Professor Ian Donald (Regius Professor of Gynaecology at the Queen Mother's Hospital of the University of Glasgow, and an Episcopalian too!) "... the human fetus is not just a sort of inanimate jelly which can be scooped into a bucket ..."

Such a public display of feeling in a country where abortion on demand is legal, bears out the reports that there are now more problems there than there ever were before the law was changed.

Incidentally, Professor Donald goes on to say "I have been criticized for speaking out and revealing some of the truths about abortion. Abortion is an ugly subject and calls for ugly words, but it appears that there are some who cannot bear to hear the truth, (yet they are prepared to advise others, including those of us who have to do the job)". Mr. Grant perhaps?

Mr. Grant mentions that Sturgeon General Hospital is as much his as anyone else's, and I don't know how heavy the demand has been there yet for abortions, but does he really want "his" hospital to be in the position of two of the large hospitals in Edmonton - and indeed of many hospitals in other provinces - where there is a waiting list for patients requiring surgical gynaecological procedures simply because the beds are taken up with abortion "patients."

Or perhaps he thinks it desirable to have abortion as readily available as in New York City where the most recent statistics record 950 abortions for every 1,000 live births. One shudders to think of the admission situation to the gynaecological wards of those hospitals. The whole situation is reminiscent of the slaughter of the innocents of Herod's time.

Has Mr. Grant stopped to think what an impossible position the majority of doctors will have to face if abortion on demand is ever legalised in Canada? Certainly, there are a few doctors who are capitalising on the current trend, whose Hippocratic oath has become one of hypocrisy, but the majority of doctors are very conscious of their vows and their ability to save life; they must be most distressed to have so many patients asking them to destroy life; however, they too are bound to a certain extent by the rules and regulations in force in the hospital in which they practice, and the sad day may be approaching when a doctor's privileges in any given hospital may depend not on his qualifications so much as his willingness to perform abortions.

Unrealistic, you think? Not when you realize that society is hovering on the brink of the same sort of catastrophe which brought about the downfall of the Greek civilization. The poison of abortion on demand is spreading throughout human society and undermining moral standards to a terrible degree, and if we do not want to live within an amoral social structure this awful thing must be stopped to allow human values to take their rightful place again in our civilization.

Many people feel that this abortion question is a matter of religion, and it is perhaps unfortunate that the fight against abortion on demand has become synonymous with religious belief because we are talking about morality not religion.

Abortion is murder and murder is immoral whether you be Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, Lutheran, or whichever religion Mr. Grant enfold. It is simply a matter of getting one's values right, and I pray God that civilization will not again in the 1970s have to succumb to the ravages of a selfish society.

Gibbon will seek 2nd term as mayor

The 1971 Civic Election is the first under the new procedure of the Municipal Government Act and municipal Election Act since their enactment in 1968. All council and school board seats along with the two St. Albert wards for Sturgeon General hospital District #100 are open for election. Each eligible voter will be voting for a total of 14 representatives, seven for council, five for school boards, two for hospital board. Those elected will hold office for a three-year period.

Nomination date for 1971 is September 15, Election Day is October 13. Qualifications for office are the same as preceding years except for age which conforms with the age of majority having been reduced to age 18.

It has been a great privilege to me to hold the office of Mayor for the Town of St. Albert since October 1968. I have enjoyed the higher education relating to municipal affairs I have received, as well as the work required by the office. I appreciate the great co-operation extended to me by residents, council, town staff and other boards related to the overall operation and well-being of the town.

It is my intention to seek my second term as Mayor of the Town of St. Albert in the forthcoming election and I hope the residents of St. Albert will support me in this endeavour.

R. M. Gibbon, Mayor
Town of St. Albert.

Kambouroff will run for Town Council

Rene Kambouroff announced today that he will seek a second term of office on St. Albert Town Council.

Mr. Kambouroff is a Public Accountant with offices on Perron street and was first elected to council in October of 1968, when he topped the polls in a close contest with Robert Russell and John deBrujin for two seats. Voting went 1,302 (Kambouroff), 1,271 (Russell) and 1,265 (deBrujin), with 39.9 per cent of the voters going to the polls.

Mr. and Mrs. Kambouroff and their family have been residents of St. Albert since 1961.

Thank- You

To all the men and women throughout St. Albert and Sturgeon who helped in so many ways with my campaign, who gave so many hours and a great variety of abilities, and particularly to my campaign manager Bob Prather, and his wife Wanda, there are no words to tell you how much your help is appreciated.

The tremendous support of the voters gave me one of the most exciting and heartwarming experiences of my life. For me, as for all the candidates elected, your support brings with it a sharp awareness of the heavy responsibilities placed on us. I can only say that I will continue to keep in touch with you, and that I will work hard to give you the best representation I can in the years ahead.

Thank you all so very much.

ERNE JAMISON.

Among the well-wishers who stopped by to congratulate Ernie Jamison were Marcel Lambert and Keith Everitt. Thelma and Keith arrived at the Club Mocambo shortly after the results for St. Albert constituency were announced and the in excess of 500 Conservatives who had gathered there to await the results gave the Everitts a thundering ovation.

Members of the Linaria Flyers and the North Central Alberta baseball trophy for their win in last Sunday's four team playoffs.

Linaria beats Morinville for NCA Baseball crown

The Linaria Flyers, northern division champions, defeated Morinville Manufacturers 11-4 in the final game Sunday in Linaria to capture the North Central Alberta Baseball Championship. Morinville were the southern division champions.

Opening game of the four team playoff saw Morinville Manufacturers defeat Westlock Chevies 9-8 on Emile Berube's pinch hit single in the ninth inning to score George St. Laurent from second base with the winning run.

Westlock were ahead 5-2 after three complete innings only to see the Morinville squad fight back and regain the lead with four runs in the fourth. Westlock went ahead again in the sixth with three more runs and a 8-6 lead going into the eighth inning. Morinville once again fought back to tie the game with their part of the eight to set the stage for the final inning and Emile Berube's timely hit.

Larry Perrott started the game but was relieved by Bud Pyluk until the ninth when he ran into control problems. Perrott was brought in to face the ninth inning batters and received credit for the win.

Every Morinville player hit safely, but O'Neil Chevallier had the best performance with a perfect plate appearance -- four hits and two walks. Norm Houle, Larry Perrott and George St. Laurent had two each.

In the second game Vimy and Linaria were locked in a 5-5 tie until the sixth inning when Linaria's hitters broke loose for 10 runs to win going away. Pittsburgh Penguin hockey star Greg Polis received credit for his win with home run support from Al Balen, Rich Hadley and Norm Anderson. Yvon Biledeau and Darcy Baert hit home run shots for Vimy. Biledeau suffered the loss.

In the final game Linaria held a 6-3 lead going into the fifth inning although appeared to be tying. With two men on Polis drove a full count pitch over the left field fence to give his club a comfortable 9-3 lead.

Morinville managed to get one in the seventh but could not get an attack started.

Emile Berube started on the mound, but gave way to Bud Pyluk in the third and Pyluk took the loss.

Chevallier was the top Morinville batter once again with two more hits and a walk. In the two games Chevallier went out only once in 11 times at bat and had six hits.

Calahoo wins Gazebo Festival

Coach Fermin Iseke of CJD Implements football team in St. Albert, joined forces with players from the Calahoo Chiefs, to win top money in the Calahoo Gazebo festival tournament last Sunday.

St/Calahoo, as they were known, defeated Summit Engineering 11-9 in the opening game of the four team tournament behind the fine pitching of Dick Bird.

In the semi-finals, Spruce Grove Panthers had little trouble with Stony Plain Playboys as they won 8-4.

The final game saw St/Calahoo easily defeat Spruce Grove 11-4 with Tom Reed picking up the win and five home runs by his team mates.

This marks the end of a very good year for Morinville who not only captured the southern division championship with a 10-2-2 record but also picked up a sponsor in Craig's Manufacturing to help out next year's team.

Dwayne Hamilton and Larry Mitchell led the way with two each with solo four baggers by Pete Turner and Stump Berube.

Following the game a beef barbecue with trimmings and refreshments were served by the Calahoo Sports Association. From all reports everybody had a tremendous time.

Saints end season with tournament victory

St. Albert Willowbrook Saints baseball club finished off the 1971 season with a victory in the eight-team Redwater baseball tournament held last weekend. The Saints had little trouble sweeping three straight games including the final 15-3 over St. Paul Cubs.

In the opening game Glen Winder allowed Legal only one hit and struck out 13 batters enroute to a 10-2 win which was called after five innings due to an eight run rule. Saints second baseman Rick Pugliese got things rolling in the first inning with a three-run homer after Chester Cunningham had tripped and Ross Speers walked.

Pugliese again homered in the fourth to put Saints ahead four runs. Legal came back with two runs in the fourth on their only hit, a single by Duke McConaghy after Ron Boisvert had walked and Neil McMillan reached first on an error.

Saints wrapped up the game in the fifth with six runs on hits by Louis Martineau and Len Cunningham and three walks. Larry Brisson took the loss.

In the semi-final, Saints broke loose for six runs in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 tie to defeat Devon 8-2. In the final inning Saints poked out five hits including doubles by Arnold Bailey and winning pitcher Wayne Biggs. Chester and Len Cunningham along with Louis Martineau had singles to help out.

Saints out-hit Devon 11-6 with Biggs getting six strike outs.

The final game against St. Paul was no contest with the Saints scoring three in the second and seven more in the third for a commanding 10-3 lead after three innings.

Veteran Arnold Bailey led the way with a home run and a double and four runs batted in. Also picking up two hits each were Louis Martineau, Chester Cunningham, Hank Reinbold and Richie Perrault. Winning pitcher Fred Resler allowed only five hits and had complete control of the game.

Lou Joly took the loss while team-mate Sld Pry-sunka had a home run.

Coach Ed Howorko indicated this would probably be the last game of the season for the Saints who came up with a pretty good year.

In league play they finished with a 9-10 win loss record and missed the playoffs by only two points to second place Burns Shamrocks. Six straight losses near the end of the season didn't help matters.

In tournament play, the Saints won at St. Albert, Morinville and Redwater, while finishing second in three others.

Sailfish capture 2nd Alberta crown

Last Saturday the St. Albert Sailfish swim team won the Alberta Summer Swim Club championship for the second consecutive year at the University of Alberta pool.

Coach Norgrove Penny directed his youngsters to the one day event with a total of 919 points, far ahead of runner-up Camrose, with 678 and a half. Medicine Hat placed third with 635.

The outstanding male competitor was Don Mitchell of Medicine Hat, while Janet Droppo of Calgary was the top female swimmer.

To date the St. Albert winners statistics are not available but will be in next week's Gazette.

Contestants from 33 clubs attended to compete in the 70 events.

Barry Flynn weds Aimee Como

By Rose Marle

Aimee Como, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Como of Riviere Qui Barre and Barry Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flynn of St. Albert, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Father August McInnes, OFM. The ceremony took place in St. Emerance RC church, before an altar decorated with large pithers filled with multi colored garden flowers.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a gown of imported Swiss satin and embroidered crepe, featuring a scoop neckline, fitted waist and an inlay of chiffon at the bodice. Long sheer full sleeves with pearl buttons on the cuffs, and a long gathered skirt added to the beauty of the gown. The long cathedral illusion net veil had bouffant tiers at the shoulder line and was held with a satin leaf, seed pearl trimmed, headpiece.

The bride's bouquet was a nosegay of multi colored roses with blue corn flowers, stephanotis and baby's breath.

The bride's attendants were Claire Bourbonnais of Riviere Qui Barre, Beverly Como, cousin of the bride from Edmonton and Claudette Sylvestre, aunt of the bride from Vancouver. Karen Flynn, sister of the groom was junior bridesmaid.

All wore identical gowns of pastel yellow lace, with scoop necklines, short sleeves and satin ribbon sashes, complimented with white accessories. Each bridesmaid carried a miniature nosegay bouquet.

The best man was Kasper Halwa of Villeneuve. Also attending the groom were his brothers, Neil and Tom. During the church ceremony, Mrs. Philomena Chinko of St. Albert and Mrs. Harriette Oulmet also of St. Albert, were soloists.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Como chose a printed cotton ensemble, with white accessories and white roses on corsage. Mrs. Flynn chose an emerald green double-knit ensemble with white accessories and yellow camillias on corsage.

A reception and wedding banquet for 350 guests was held in the Morinville Centre with Robert Como, uncle of the bride as master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by another uncle of the bride, Denis Sylvestre. A wedding dance and social followed in the Morinville Hall, with 1,000 guests present.

For her honeymoon to the west coast, the bride changed into a pastel pink shantung dress with matching coat, white accessories, and camillias on corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Flynn will take up residence on the Ray Como family farm in Riviere Qui Barre, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Como will move to Edmonton.

Among the guests present were three grandmothers, Mrs. A. Van de Walle from Legal, Mrs. Eva Como from Edmonton, Mrs. Jeannette Sylvestre of Morinville. Also out of town guests from Vermillion, Vancouver, Fort McMurray, Calgary, Bonnyville and Picanville.

his successful Cochrane dairy farmer tells why

"ELECTRICITY IS BOOSTING MY PROFITS"

Ir. Jack Hawkwood has a dairy farm at Cochrane. He's President of the Calgary Fluid Milk Producers' Association, a Director of C.C.A., Provincial Milk Producers, and Dairy Food Service Bureau. And he knows what today's farmers are doing.

Economy. That's the big thing today. You can't run a big-sized operation and make it go. Expenses are too high — labour costs too much. I use electricity — and keep my expenses down while expanding my operation increasing the size of my herd gave me a bigger profit margin — but I didn't have to pay extra labour costs — electricity reduces those costs. I can keep the herd healthy and maintain the highest standard of cleanliness in the help of electrical equipment. Yes, I use a lot of power — couldn't afford not to! I think that it's one of the best bargains available.

So how you can Farm Better Electrically — write or call your local Calgary Power representative and ask for our brochure "Electric Power and Dairy Farming."

Legion News

By Wally Swenarchuk

The first meeting of the St. Albert Legion to start the fall season has been called for the second Monday of September (the 13). This is a change from past routine when monthly meetings were held on the first Monday of the month, and members should note the change.

Not able to attend this meeting will be Deanne Draney, who is moving to Salmon Arm. Deanne spent some 25 years or more in the airforce and served in almost every part of Canada as well as overseas. His wife dutifully followed and made it home wherever duty called.

When retirement came Deanne asked his wife to pick the spot to retire. Mrs. Draney was born in St. Albert and she thought she may as well move back to the birthplace she left as a child. Deanne and Mrs. Draney think there are greener pastures, however, and are moving on to British Columbia.

To say farewell, the Legion would like to see as many legionnaires and friends of the Draneys as can make it, come to the Legion Hall on Saturday, September 4, cause after that date it will be too late.

During the summer, members have not altogether laid off. A group attended the provincial convention, where the Legion Low-Cost Housing Sweepstakes were launched, in the midst of this drive most legionnaires are busy selling tickets for this $50,000 lottery to raise funds to subsidize rents for the old-age pensioners who have moved into this first housing project of its kind in Canada in south Edmonton. All apartments are full and it is not restricted to veterans, though they have the preference.

In spite of the low cost of rents, some find it difficult to afford even this small amount. The money raised by this source will help pay interest, administrative and maintenance costs, in the hope rents can also be reduced. The lottery will on the 11th of November, the date the draw will take place. There are still lots of books unsold, and members who have not yet sold their quota had better get cracking.

The legion is soliciting the support of St. Albert citizens to support them in this worthwhile project, where you have a chance to help financially and stand to gain a fortune in a prize.

Banff Seminar cadet camp Revises

By Jeanne Laplante

The Banff National Army Cadet Camp is located about three miles northeast along scenic highway, from Banff townsite. The towering 9800 foot peak of Mount Cascade overlooks the camp.

Roland Dusseault of Vimy was among the approximately 300 cadets from all across Canada, the British Isles and the United States attended the camp this summer. They were divided into four companies of eight sections each with six to eight cadets per section. Cadets from French Canada were intermingled with English speaking. This generally created a greater understanding between the two language groups. Often, the language barrier was found not to be as insurmountable as it is sometimes made out to be. The cadet band was from Prince Edward Island.

The training program was drastically revised from last year's and featured one day climbs and overnight exercises designed and arranged so as to increase in degree of difficulty as camp progressed. To obtain the Cadets' opinion of training and overall camp, the camp staff prepared a questionnaire about all aspects of the camp.

This camp is a style of reward camp for senior cadets. These cadets are expected to have well-mastered the art of being a cadet; therefore a great deal of responsibility is placed on the cadet rather than in camp staff. Getting up in the morning to make the beds and sweep the floor for morning inspection is their own responsibility. It is up to each section leader to requisite food and transportation to departure points and from pick-up points for all one-day climbs and overnight schemes.

Much of the planning for the overnight schemes is also left up to the section leader. Even the wearing of civilian clothes to town is a test. Since the cadet's identity as a cadet is not outwardly apparent, he might take it on himself to evade his responsibilities and fool around a little. There are no regulations against the entering of licensed premises by cadets of legal age provided they know when to stop.

The one-day climbs consisted of following a trail as far up the mountain as time would allow. The physical stamina required is greater than one would expect. Many returned completely exhausted, with sore, blistered feet. By the end of the camp, these tell tale signs of exhaustion were practically erased. Mountain climbs included Mounts Rundle, Cascade and Norquay. Mount Norquay had to be the most enjoyed climb not only because of the magnificent scenery but also because the boys reached the very peak.

The Mountain Training School portion of the program was most enjoyable.

The school was divided into two parts: the Rock School and the Snow School. The Rock School consisted of a basic mountain climbing course teaching techniques of climbing of rock, belaying and rappelling. Another segment of the Rock School included various methods of river crossing. In the wet river crossing, the cadet crosses attached to a belay rope hanging on forehead like to a line strung across the raging Cascade River. The water temperature was estimated at 45 - 50 degrees, the current at 15 - 20 mph. A wonderful change in the color of the cadets' legs occurred as they stepped from the water. Beautiful shades of blue and orange appeared.

The highlight of the Snow School was the hike from Nun-Ti-Ja Lodge to St. Nicholas Peak and the Bow Glacier about 70 miles north of Banff. The glacier training included techniques of climbing on snow, self arrests when falling with and without an ice-pick besides spending the night on the glacier, which is quite a test in itself.

The overnight exercises were technically much the same as the one-day climbs; following trails, only this time, it was all too easy to make a wrong turn as one section did, walking an extra five miles.

Along the designated trails were located checkpoints manned by a senior NCO and an MA (medical assistant) to check blisters and other medical problems. Facilities were always available for quick evacuation in case of serious accidents.

The watermanship exercise was probably the easiest exercise physically, of the entire summer. After a brief familiarization with the 15-man inflatable assault craft, inflating, use and deflating, cadets "put to sea" about 40 miles upstream from Banff on the Bow River. The paddling was never continuous and the boys often simply drifted with the current. The sunburns, however, were among the best of the summer.

The ceremonial passing-out parade was highlighted by the inspection by Minister of National Defense, Mr. Donald MacDonald. Preceding the inspection, the cadets carried out demonstrations of practically everything learned during the summer: cooking, RP4 rations, building shelters, rock climbing, belaying, rappelling first aid, mountain rescue, etc. The Sunset Parade, the flag lowering ceremony, completed the day's agenda.

The corner of Ball Avenue at Grandin Road has been a hub of activity in recent days. A 60 by 25 foot building has been moved on to the site of Eilm Chapel and construction has begun on the front of the building which will feature brick facing, stained glass and aluminum siding. Of L-shape design, the building offers a spacious entry-way and crying room. The lower floor will have facilities for Sunday school, washrooms and kitchen. The congregation of Eilm Chapel expects to move into the church in about a month. Ken McAmmond, of the building committee, said the church should be fully completed by the end of this year.

Choirs invite new members

Thursday is choir day in the United Church, and the program is expanding again this year to include a group for high-schoolers. This new group - with the other established choirs - for seniors and juniors - will begin a week from Thursday, Sept. 9, in the lower hall of the church.

Mrs. Lillian Upright, music director of the United Church, has an interest in choral music dating back to the early days of the University Singers. This group was established on the campus by the late Prof. R. S. Eaton, and Mrs. Upright served as its accompanist and associate director.

Mrs. Margaret Crerar will be assisting Mrs. Upright in handling the junior choir which will meet directly after school, 4 p.m. on Thursdays. This choir is for children in Grades 4-8. At 6:30 p.m. Mr. John Lindley and Mrs. Upright are anxious to meet with the older teens to develop a repertoire of music for worship that is real for them. Following this, at 7:30 the senior choir will resume its work for the new season.

Newcomers to any of these groups will be most wel-

Heavy draft horses "Chief" and "Nix" in action at the Pulling Match held in Vermillion last Saturday. The team belongs to W. H. Little who farms about three miles north of Vermillion.

Little team wins pulling match

The annual Pulling Match for heavy draft horses was held August 26, prior to the Horse Auction at Vermillion. Only five teams out of 12 who entered were able to be present, since harvesting operations are in full swing.

For the third time the team owned by W. H. Little of Vermillion won the match. The team easily pulled 8,000 pounds. Bruce Baldwin of Vermillion placed second and Mel Hentz of Ardrossan third, both pulling 7,500. The teams of John King and Sam Little, both of Vermillion were out of the match early.

Four rules governed the pulling match:

1. Each driver has three starts, and must stop within two feet of either side of stop line.

2. Each team must stop every 25 feet, and an additional 500 pounds is added to load until they reach 125 feet.

3. Driver must not at any time while team is pulling, hit his horses with lines or whip. End of lines or whip permissible to swing in air, only.

4. Horses must not at any time step over outside lines of track or they will be disqualified.

If there is sufficient interest it is hoped that another match can be arranged after harvesting is completed. It is a spectacular and thrilling contest to see these huge horses perform. In the Vermillion contest all the horses entered weighed over 1,600 pounds each. For further information telephone Denis Patterson at 599-3084.

As I See It

By Rose Martin

On Monday, August 30, 1971, the people of Alberta elected you Premier of Alberta and also elected 48 other members of the Progressive Conservative party including our own local candidate, Ernie Jamison of St. Albert, to form the first PC administration in Alberta.

There is a big job to be done in the Alberta legislature. We, Albertans, need and demand, not a miracle worker, but a builder, with sound planning, good administration and the flawless integrity rigidly required at all levels of civil service.

We the people of Alberta are faced with every serious problem, and you, Mr. Premier-elect, acknowledged that, in your brief acceptance speech from Calgary on Monday evening before your departure for the capital.

As I see it the first step and very necessary one, is to re-establish order in government, a government with direct communication with the people. "The Team" work has to be continued, with the same theme that won you the election, in action day after day in the legislature, as you did on the election trail.

The performance of your government should reflect the sincere desire to uphold the basic principles of true democracy and the dignity of man. We hope you will stand fast against bureaucracy and rubber stamp government by order in council.

The second step is to keep in mind the necessary reforms in local municipal government with regard to property tax, social services, grants and education.

Pollution and royalties from natural resources, should be among top priorities when a long overdue study of all our assets and liabilities is made.

Thirdly, the selection of your cabinet, will be one of your first and most serious official decisions. Each one chosen must be chosen to serve all the people of Alberta. Your choice of ministers will reflect to a great extent your judgement, and ability to make the first Conservative government in Alberta one that the people of this bountiful and beautiful land expect and deserve, for young and old, rich and poor, white, black or brown, all alike and without exception.

In 1966, I accepted from your hand a blue sash ribbon with "Peter for Premier" printed on it. Today you have received the necessary mandate from the people to become just that. Your theme "Team Work" has been accepted and now will be challenged. Mistakes will be made, that is only human, and can be forgiven and forgotten, but arrogance and patronage - never.

When history records the achievements and deeds of your government in Alberta from September 1971 to 1977 we all hope that your stewardship will have proved a successful one. Not because of your great majority, but because "the team" worked and served the people. Because they gave the young, the middle generation and the elderly a chance to build a better land of opportunity and the necessary means to keep their personal dignity. That Peter would be Performance.

St. John Ambulance to hold instructors seminar

Invitations have been sent out to over 300 First Aid Instructors to attend the St. John Ambulance, Northern Alberta First Aid Instructor's Seminar, in Edmonton, October 2.

The one day program will be staged at the Workmen's Compensation Rehabilitation tion Clinic, 7123 - 119 St., Edmonton.

The panel of four Doctors will discuss their speciality on the "Preservations of Life." This will include discussions on the drug problem; poisons; treatment of burns; water safety; etc.

Other topics to be discussed will include the St.

John Ambulance First Aid Competitions; techniques in teaching; and First Aid for youth and adults.

Pre-registrations from Red Deer - North are now being accepted for all First Aid Instructors and Nurses in Industry.

A total of 120 people attended last year's seminar, travelling from as far as Calgary, College Heights, Edson, Eckville, Fort McMurray, Fort Saskatchewan, Hinton, Midley, Ponoka, Provost, Red Deer, St. Albert, St. Paul, Vegreville, Two Hills, and Whitecourt.

It is hoped that more instructors will come out to the seminar this year.

ACT to sponsor bingo in aid of camp

The Associated Canadian Travellers (Edmonton Club) have launched a new fund raising venture to help offset the costs of operating a burgeoning camp for the handicapped at Lake Isle.

Faced with unexpected costs brought on by a 22 per cent increase in attendance of handicapped at the camp this summer, the camp board executive, through the ACT (Edmonton Club) will hold a TV Bingo on CFRN-TV (Channel 3) at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 8.

Ross Symington, chairman of Camp Sponsorships, advised that proceeds from the bingo will help offset the added costs of accommodating 450 handicapped at camp during the summer. This compares with 372 occupants last summer in seven camping sessions. There are nine camping periods this summer between May 29 and Sept. 13, Mr. Symington stated.

Bingo cards are available at drug stores, food outlets, service stations, cleaner depots and other places of business in most communities throughout North-Central Alberta.

The ACT committee is offering 10 blackout games to be played between 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday Sept. 8. Each game is worth at least $1,000 with the tie breakers receiving a minimum of $50.

As a special award a 1971 Vega will be drawn for the next morning among all the winners. Players will be given till 11 p.m. to phone in their results and winners will be announced on a special program the following morning. They will also be published in Edmonton's daily paper the following Saturday.

Fun Food to eat or not to eat

Have you ever wondered what kind of food value you are getting when you eat a hot dog, a cheeseburger or even a piece of Pizza?

The following chart compares the food value of a basic dinner menu to a hot dog, cheeseburger and pizza:

Foods	Calories	Protein (gms)	Carbohydrates (gms)	Calcium (gms)	Iron (gms)	Vitamins
						A (IU)	B (mgms)	C (mgm)
3 oz. beef	412.5	31	35	56	6	14,530	9	50
1 Med-size baked potato
1 c. peas & carrots
Hot Dog	273	23	64	61	3	None	5	None
Cheeseburger with tomato slice	574	38	60	67	5	640	8	5
Meat Pizza (ave. portion)	366	21	24	8	2	300	2	None

CALORIES: Looking at the chart, the cheeseburger leads in the number of calories; next in line is the basic dinner menu, pizza and lowest in calories is the hot dog. Generally, growing teen-agers take more than one hot dog at mealtime. Barbecued hot dogs tempt even small appetites, too. So, two hot dogs would be almost equal to the number of calories contained in one cheeseburger.

PROTEIN: The cheeseburger also leads in the amount of protein, followed close behind by the basic dinner menu. Protein is important in one's diet in order to build strong bones and teeth and provide for growth and constant repair of body tissues.

CALCIUM: Calcium is needed in the body to maintain and build strong bones and teeth. A long-standing deficiency in one's diet of calcium, shows up in the elderly person as the bone disease - osteoporosis. A person with this bone disease has very brittle bones. The cheeseburger, the hot dog or the basic dinner menu provide an adequate amount of calcium. Poor pizza eater, he may have broken bones that are slow to heal.

IRON: One's body needs iron to prevent one common type of anemia. Anemia means you have too little haemoglobin in your blood. It results in lower vitality and poor health. Tops on the chart in iron content is the dinner menu and the cheeseburger. Though a pizza may look red, it's a very poor source of iron!

VITAMIN A: Is needed by the body to maintain a good resistance to infection and to help one see in the dark.

Way out in front, on the chart, is the dinner menu followed poorly behind by the cheeseburger. Hot dog, surely must have a runny nose!

B. VITAMINS (Thiamine, Riboflavin and Nicotin) - Being high in B vitamins, the dinner menu and cheeseburger will help one to have a good appetite, a normal nervous system and help one to grow. B vitamins are also an economical source of energy - what teen-agers and young mothers need so much of today.

VITAMIN C - Last on the chart is Vitamin C, an important nutrient which helps in providing resistance to infection and for firm healing wounds. Babies and others who lack Vitamin C in their diet get painful scurvy.

The basic dinner menu is the only good source of Vitamin C. Don't look to the hot dog, cheeseburger or pizza to provide this essential vitamin!

Slieve kids enjoy these "fun foods," don't omit them from your menu, but serve them with a crisp tossed salad, cold slaw or a relish tray of tomato wedges, celery and carrot sticks. This way your young and teen-agers are assured of having good resistance to infection and colds.

So - pass the hot dogs ma, but don't forget the "greens."

Do you want to know which foods provide you with good sources of calcium, Vitamin A, C and B's, iron, protein and energy? Send for the publications, "What to Eat to be Healthy," free, by sending your name and address to the District Home Economist, County Building, Morinville.

Twelve rules for rearing delinquent children

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.

2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will encourage him to pick up "cute" phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.

3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him "decide for himself."

4. Avoid the use of the word "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later, when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.

5. Pick up everything he leaves around - books, shoes, clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.

6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.

7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.

8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you have them?

9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. See that every sensual desire is satisfied. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.

10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen.

11. When he gets into real trouble apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him."

12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely to have it.

Beef Cattle Test Station

Farmers and cattlemen interested in the record of performance test station can pick up application forms at the District Agriculturist's office in Morinville. Herd owners can obtain data on their bulls being tested as well as a comparison against other bulls from other owners.

New ruelene expected

A new ready-to-use formulation of Ruelene insecticide will be on the market in time for cattlemen to treat their cattle for warble grubs and lice early in the fall.

Called Ruelene 12R, this new formulation gives cattlemen the convenience of a pour-on systemic insecticide which can be used straight from the can with no mixing. It will be available in 128 ounce containers.

Cattlemen who prefer a concentrate which can be used either as a spray or as a pour-on application will still be able to get the original formulation R25E.

Swine erysipelas reported on the increase —Issued by the District Agriculturist's Office.

Erysipelas is taking its toll of Alberta hogs this summer.

Dr. M. P. Hewitt of the animal diseases section of the Alberta veterinary services laboratory, reports that the number of erysipelas cases in pigs is rising again after having subsided during the past few years. It appears that a lot of farmers have stopped vaccinating, he says. At the present time, the laboratory is receiving a large number of pigs which have died from swine erysipelas.

Dr. Hewitt strongly advises hog producers to vaccinate all their pigs when they are about three months old. Prior to this age, they do not develop a strong immunity from the vaccine. Dr. Hewitt also recommends giving yearly booster vaccines to the sows before they are bred to lessen the chances of abortions after they are bred, and to minimize the chance of the erysipelas infection being passed on to the litter. Sows which get the disease while pregnant may abort or pass on the infection to the young pigs while they are still in the uterus or through the milk after they are born. In either case, the piglets may die from the infection.

Although pigs of all ages are susceptible to erysipelas, most cases occur in animals that are between three months and a year old. The incubation period may be as short as 24 hours but usually varies between three and seven days. Although penicillin and swine erysipelas antiserum will often cure the active forms of the disease, pigs may still develop the chronic type and die later on, Dr. Hewitt says.

Clinically, swine erysipelas is divided into four types: The Peracute Type: There are usually no symptoms with this type; the pig is simply found dead.

The Acute Type: Pigs that have this form refuse to eat and have an elevated temperature which often goes as high as 106 or 108°F. The animal tends to lie around and to hide under the litter, if there is any. It may vomit, but this symptom is not necessarily present. In pigs that survive for longer than 24 hours, reddening of the skin on the belly, inside the thighs, between the front legs and around the neck and ears will be apparent.

Such pigs are weak and stagger if forced to get up. Constipation followed by diarrhea is another common symptom, and swollen eyelids may also be noted.

Pigs with the acute type of erysipelas may survive for several days and then die; they may develop the chronic type; or they may recover. Those that recover may not gain weight for some time and necrotic changes may occur on the skin and especially on the tips of the ears.

The Skin Type: The sick animal goes off its feed, lies around and often has a temperature of 105 to 107°F. Reddish-purple, diamond-shaped blotches frequently develop on the skin.

They feel like raised areas, are warm to the touch and are often about the size of a silver dollar.

Some pigs with skin erysipelas die, some develop the chronic form of the disease and some recover.

The Chronic Type: This form may develop without any prior symptoms or as a sequel to the acute or skin forms. Sometimes growths on the heart valves impede the blood flow through the heart and from it into the blood vessels. When this is the case, there may be no noticeable symptoms; the pig just dies from heart failure. In other cases, the skin on the ears, neck and body becomes a bluish-purple color because of poor circulation. The pig may survive for some time and then die of heart failure.

Both the acute and skin forms of swine erysipelas can cause lameness from swollen and inflamed joints. Even though the swelling and heat may subside, the pig may remain stiff and lame as a result of changes in the joints. Such animals will not thrive.

According to Dr. Hewitt, swine erysipelas is caused by bacteria which can live and multiply in the soil. Apparently, healthy pigs can harbour the bacteria in their tonsils, bone marrow and intestines. Since these animals are a potential source of infection, the danger of the disease is always there. Dr. Hewitt says it is more prevalent during the warm summer months, but that cases occur all the year round.

Because of the wide range of symptoms connected with swine erysipelas, anyone who suspects that his pigs may have the disease should contact his veterinarian immediately for an accurate diagnosis.
